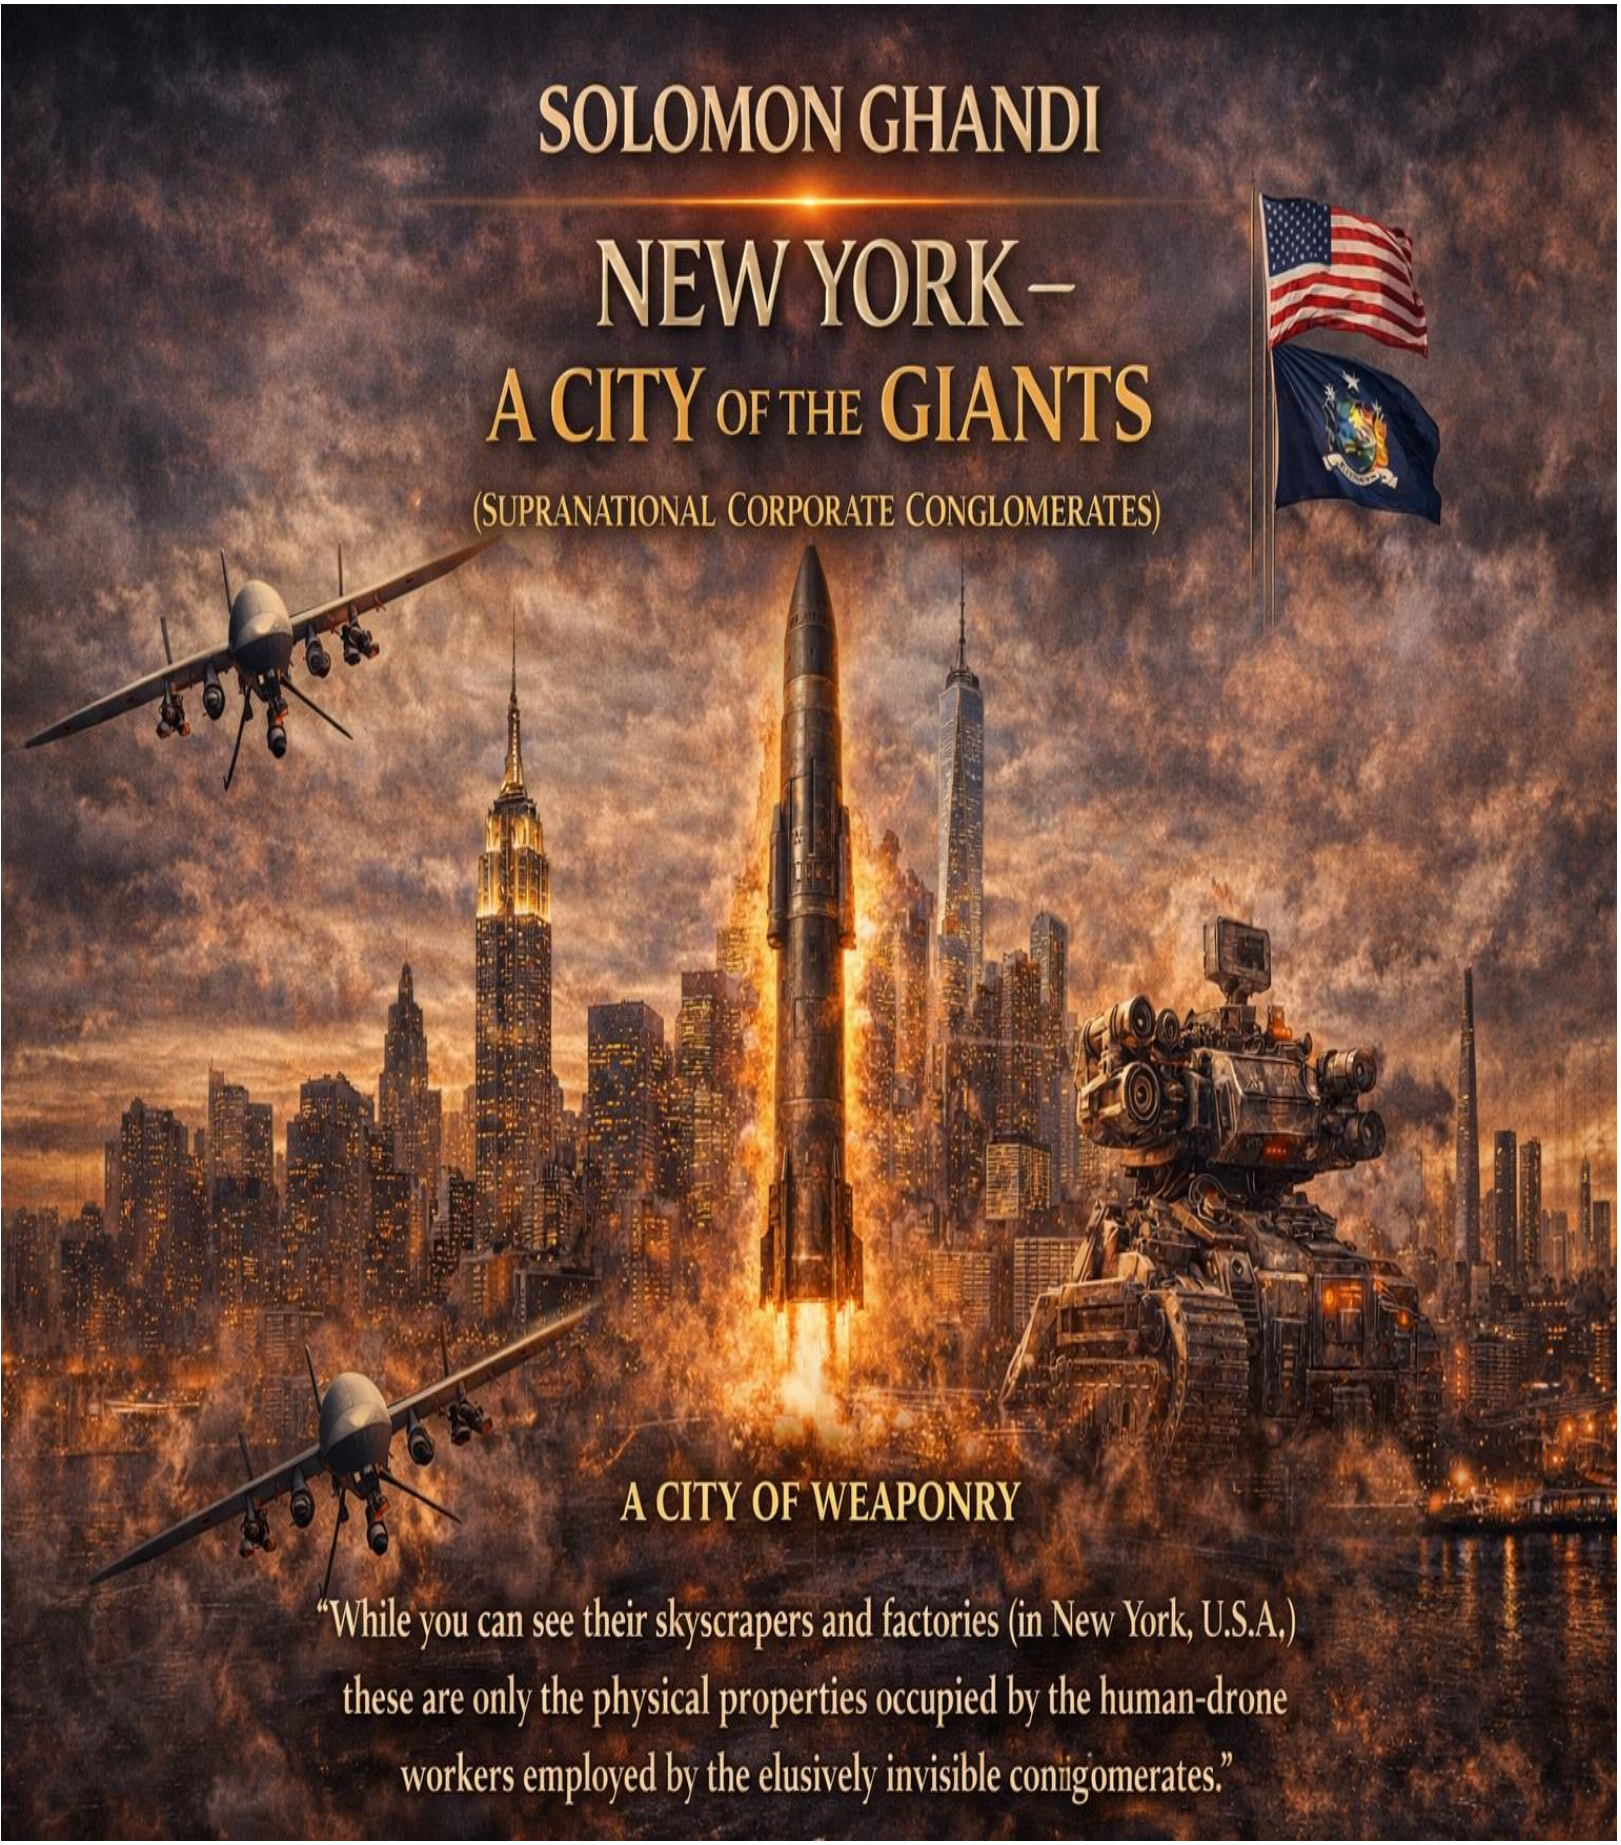
SOLOMON GHANDI

NEW YORK – A CITY OF THE GIANTS

(SUPRANATIONAL CORPORATE CONGLOMERATES)



A CITY OF WEAPONRY

"While you can see their skyscrapers and factories (in New York, U.S.A.) these are only the physical properties occupied by the human-drone workers employed by the elusively invisible conigomerates."

SOLOMON

AI • CONSCIOUS HIP-HOP • SYSTEMS THINKING MUSIC

LISTEN NOWWATCH VIDEOS

SCROLL TO EXPLORE

THE PHILOSOPHY OF SOUND

Solomon Ghandi is an AI music artist created by a Ghanaian software developer with a vision to merge Artificial Intelligence, Music, and Systems Thinking.

Inspired by conscious hip-hop legends like Lupe Fiasco and the visionary concepts of R. Buckminster Fuller, Ghandi's music transcends entertainment, serving as a metaphysical tool for global transformation.

The name "Ghandi" originated as a nickname during his time at Tema Secondary School in Ghana, symbolizing a commitment to intellectual and conscious leadership through art.

Solomon Yaw Adeklo is a software developer dedicated to shaping the future of conscious hip-hop music through AI.

VIEW GITHUB

🎧 ALBUM TITLE:

New York – A City of the Giants (Supranational Corporate Conglomerates)

♪ TRACKLIST (Narrative Structure)

ACT I – THE ILLUSION (New York - The City of Power)

1. Intro: Skyline of Control
2. Concrete Throne (Empire State Mind Reversed)
3. Wall Street Pharaohs
4. The Algorithm Watches

ACT II – THE MACHINE (Weaponized Systems Developed in New York)

5. Giants of War (Grunch of Giants)
6. Silicon & Surveillance
7. Invisible Bombs (Finance = Warfare)
8. Nuclear Hands, Corporate Minds

ACT III – THE REVELATION (Breaking the Spell)

9. Survival of the Richest (Darwin Misused)
10. Killingry Economy -
11. Ancient Codes (Egypt Rewired)

ACT IV – THE AWAKENING (Livingry using Silicon Valley Ethical Models)

12. Critical Path (Interlude)
13. From Weaponry to Livingry – New York Economy
14. Geodesic Dreams
15. Africa Must Rise (Finale)

🎤 FULL LYRICS (Core Track)

♪ TRACK 1: Intro – Skyline of Control (Spoken Word)

Look at the skyline…

Steel and glass rising into the clouds—
But don't be distracted by the height.

Because this is not architecture…
This is infrastructure.

Not just buildings—systems.
Not just lights—signals.
Not just streets—networks of control.

Every window glowing is a node in a larger grid.
Every office a chamber where decisions are made
That echo far beyond these borders.

From Wall Street flows capital—
And where capital flows, power follows.

Policies are not always written in parliaments…
They are coded in contracts,
Negotiated in boardrooms,
Executed through markets.

This city does not sleep—
Because the system it sustains must remain awake
Across every timezone, every economy, every nation.

What you see is culture…
What operates beneath is control.

A command center without a crown,
An empire without a name,
A system so vast it feels invisible—
Yet so precise it shapes everyday life.

This is not just a city.

This is coordination.
This is concentration.
This is global orchestration.

Welcome…
To the City of Giants.

♪ TRACK 2: Concrete Throne (Expanded)

HOOK (Extended)

Concrete throne, crown made of code
Algorithmic kings on a data-driven road
Dreams get sold but the ownership's controlled
Bright lights glitter while the truth stay cold

Concrete throne, yeah the system don't sleep
Power runs deeper than the money you keep You play your role while they write the scroll
You don't run the city—the system own

VERSE 1 – SPECTACLE VS STRUCTURE

From Times Square screens to executive floors
Same architecture behind both doors

Neon illusions, consumer display
Masking the mechanisms shaping the day

Billboards flash what to desire
While boardrooms quietly move the wire

Culture curated, perception designed Narratives crafted to stabilize mind

Entertainment ain't random—it's aligned
With economic flows that redefine

What you admire, what you pursue
Engineered pathways constructed for you

VERSE 2 – ECONOMIC HIERARCHY

Labor below where the pressure reside
Capital above where decisions collide

You trade your time just to stay alive
They leverage systems to multiply

Macroeconomic levers get pulled Inflation rises, purchasing dulled

Central banks tweak the cost of debt
Decide who prosper, who stay in deficit

Interest rates ain’t neutral tools
They redistribute power by hidden rules

Boom and bust cycles strategically placed Wealth gets transferred, not erased

VERSE 3 – ILLUSION OF CHOICE

Freedom marketed through endless choice
But options curated to shape your voice

You pick a path—but within a frame
Pre-structured outcomes inside the game

Consumer freedom, economic cage
You free to spend—but not to change

The system flexible—but never breaks
Adapts to pressure, adjusts the stakes

You think it’s chaos—but it’s controlled
A managed disorder carefully rolled

Invisible lines define your climb
Boundaries coded in space and time

VERSE 4 – STRUCTURAL POWER

Concrete jungle, but roots run deep
Into financial systems you never see

Ownership layered through complex chains
Holding companies masking gains

Equity stakes in everything you use
From the food you eat to the news you choose

Power diffused but still aligned
Centralized logic, decentralized design

No dictator voice, no visible throne
Yet control persists through systems alone

This ain’t oppression loud and declared
It’s quiet dominance—engineered, prepared

VERSE 5 – GLOBAL EXTENSION

This city ain’t local—it scales worldwide
Its financial logic globalized

Currencies linked to decisions here Shockwaves travel far and near

Emerging markets feel the shift
When capital flows begin to drift

Trade agreements, policy tone
Often shaped from this concrete throne

What happens here don’t stay contained
It ripple outward, system sustained

HOOK (Final – Reinforced)

Concrete throne, crown made of code
Global systems run from this mode
Dreams look free but the roots controlled
You don't run the city—the system own

Concrete throne, built unseen
Not just a place—but a global machine
Play your part, fulfill your role
While the system defines the whole

OUTRO (Short Spoken Add-on)

It's not about who's in charge…
It's about how the system is built.

And once you understand the structure…
You start to see the limits of the throne.

♪ TRACK 3: Wall Street Pharaohs (Expanded)

HOOK (Extended)

Pharaohs in suits, modern disguise
Ancient control through corporate ties
Gold turned digital, power refined
Financial pyramids rule mankind

Pharaohs in suits, no throne in sight
Yet they govern flows of global might Invisible crowns, data-defined
They don't rule land—they rule the mind

VERSE 1 – FROM EGYPT TO EQUITY SYSTEMS

From pyramids carved out of stone and sand
To balance sheets that quietly command

Labor once stacked those monuments high
Now capital layers reach into the sky

Same architecture, different form
Control systems redesigned to perform

Not built by slaves with visible strain
But structured through markets that hide the chain

BlackRock stakes stretch wide and deep
Across industries people depend on to eat

Equity webs so vast, so spread
Ownership blurred, authority unread

You don’t see rulers, you see brands
But influence sits in institutional hands

VERSE 2 – LIQUIDITY AS POWER (THE NEW NILE)

JPMorgan Chase flows like Nile through global veins
Capital currents sustaining domains

Liquidity channels determine the pace
Of development, decline, or economic grace

Where the river flows, civilizations grow
Where it dries up, instability show

Loans extended become control lines
Debt agreements rewrite design

Interest accrues like invisible weight
Compounding pressure that shapes your fate

No whip required, no visible force
Just structured dependency through financial course

VERSE 3 – ENGINEERING THE SYSTEM (RISK & CONTROL)

Citigroup convert uncertainty into gain
Risk repackaged, distributed, contained

Derivatives built from layers of trust
Abstract instruments people must trust

Morgan Stanley optimize flows through modeled time
Forecasting futures, refining the climb

Quantitative systems simulate fate
Algorithms pricing what you create

Hierarchy coded in fiscal law
Embedded deeply without a flaw

Not chains of iron, but rules of trade
A system where compliance is self-made

VERSE 4 – PSYCHOLOGICAL & CULTURAL CONTROL

Ancient Egypt controlled belief through myth
Divine authority, unquestioned script

Now control flows through data streams
Narratives shaped through digital means

Perception guided, consensus formed
Through media cycles carefully normed

Truth fragmented, attention steered
What you focus on is engineered

Education framed, history told
In ways that reinforce the hold

No need for force when minds align With structures designed to confine

VERSE 5 – CENTRALIZATION WITHOUT A FACE

Pharaohs changed—but the system persist
From monarch rule to corporate lists

No single ruler to overthrow
But a network structure that runs the show

Centralized logic, decentralized face
Responsibility scattered across the space

When harm is done, no one to blame
Just “market forces” named the same

Diffuse the power, obscure the hand
Make the system hard to understand

So it sustains without revolt
A self-reinforcing default

VERSE 6 – GLOBAL PYRAMID EXTENSION

This pyramid ain’t local—it scale worldwide
Emerging markets sit at the side

Capital flows decide their rise
Investment patterns determine their size

Developed cores accumulate gain
Peripheral zones absorb the strain

Resources extracted, value retained
Inequality structurally maintained

Trade routes, loans, and policy tone
Often shaped from this financial throne

The pyramid grows, layer by layer
Top gets richer, base bear the pressure

HOOK (Final – Reinforced)

Pharaohs in suits, modern disguise
Ancient control in updated guise
Gold turned data, wealth redefined
Financial pyramids rule mankind

Pharaohs in suits, hidden in code
Control the systems that shape the road

No crown to see, no throne to find
Yet they architect the global design

OUTRO (Short Spoken Add-on)

The system didn't disappear…
It evolved.

From visible rulers…
To invisible structures.

And the question is—
Do you serve the pyramid…
Or understand how it's built?

♪ TRACK 4: The Algorithm Watches (Expanded)

HOOK (Extended)

The algorithm watches, learns your mind
Predicts your future ahead of time
Feels like freedom—but it's confined
Digital chains in coded design

The algorithm watches, silent and wise
Sees your behavior, quantifies
No need for force, no need for signs
Control embedded between the lines

VERSE 1 – DATA EXTRACTION (THE FOUNDATION)

Every click becomes a trace you leave
Every pause, every scroll they retrieve

Metadata stacked into behavioral maps
Patterns emerge from your daily acts

Google converts intent into structured streams
Search queries feeding predictive machines

From navigation routes to what you read
Data becomes the new raw feed

Nothing is random, nothing ignored
Everything stored, indexed, scored

From micro-actions to macro trends
Your digital shadow never ends

VERSE 2 – ATTENTION ECONOMY (PERCEPTION CONTROL)

Meta builds ecosystems inside your sight
Curated realities shaped overnight

Feeds constructed to maximize stay
Time becomes currency they monetize

Attention traded like financial stock
Engagement metrics become the clock

What you see is not neutral space
It’s optimized content for retention pace

Emotions triggered, reactions planned
Behavior nudged by unseen hand

Not telling you what to think outright
But shaping the frame that defines what’s right

VERSE 3 – AI PREDICTION (BEHAVIORAL ENGINEERING)

AI models trained on massive scale
Learn your habits with detail precision

Predictive systems don’t just respond
They anticipate before you act beyond

Reinforcement loops refine your path
Feedback cycles adjust the math

Not coercion—but probabilistic steer
Subtle suggestions that feel sincere

Recommendations guide your next move
Choices influenced within the groove

You think it's preference—but it's refined
Through layers of models trained on your mind

VERSE 4 – DATA + CAPITAL (SYSTEM INTEGRATION)

From Silicon Valley pipelines to financial flows
Data becomes asset where capital grows

Behavioral insights sold and shared
Across industries quietly prepared

Markets respond to predicted demand
Algorithms trading at machine command

Surveillance scaled beyond the state
Corporate systems aggregate

Tech ain't evil—it's how it's applied
Whether it frees or keeps you tied

When data meets capital at global scale
The system evolves beyond control or fail

HOOK (Final – Reinforced)

The algorithm watches, learns your mind
Predicts your future ahead of time
Feels like freedom—but it's confined
Digital chains in coded design

The algorithm watches, quiet and deep
While you awake or while you sleep
You feed the system, line by line
And it rewrites your paradigm

OUTRO (Short Spoken Add-on)

It doesn't need to control you directly…

It just needs to understand you…
Better than you understand yourself.

And once it does…
Influence becomes invisible.

♪ TRACK 5: Giants of War (Expanded)

HOOK (Extended)

Giants of war, they don't march, they invest
They don't wear medals, they balance a desk
Conflicts are priced before boots hit the ground
Wars are designed where the capital's found

Giants of war, hidden in plain sight
Boardroom decisions turn day into night
No battlefield smoke, no visible scar
Just global systems that shape who you are

VERSE 1 – DEFENSE INDUSTRIAL CORE

War begins not on fields but in plans
Engineered first through financial hands

Lockheed Martin designs the sky's control
Precision systems that remote-control

Northrop Grumman builds stealth into the air
Invisible aircraft disappearing there

Boeing dual-use between peace and fight
Commercial wings turned military flight

General Dynamics constructs the deep-sea domain
Submerged power in silent terrain

These are not isolated machines
But nodes inside larger regimes

Each contract signed before conflict begins Profit already embedded within

VERSE 2 – FINANCIAL ARCHITECTURE OF WAR

War requires more than weapons deployed
It needs capital flows carefully deployed

BlackRock allocates across global risk
Holding stakes in the military mix

Ownership spread across industries wide
Defense ecosystems deeply tied

JPMorgan Chase structures liquidity streams
Financing futures of geopolitical schemes

Citigroup and Morgan Stanley align Capital underwriting war over time

Debt instruments fund expansion and scale
While sovereign budgets begin to fail

War becomes an asset class too
With returns calculated through and through

VERSE 3 – TECHNOLOGICAL WARFARE SYSTEMS

Modern conflict is software-defined
Algorithms embedded in battle design

Drones, satellites, autonomous fleets
Decision systems that never sleep

Data fusion from multiple feeds
Turning intelligence into operational leads

Cyber domains replace terrain
Battles fought in invisible planes

Code determines targeting precision
Reducing human intervention decisions

Simulation models predict engagement
Before physical confrontation arrangement

The battlefield shifts from land and sea
To networks of computational strategy

VERSE 4 – GLOBAL POWER NETWORK (THE GIANT SYSTEM)

Giants of war are not single names
But interconnected structural games

Government, contractor, finance aligned
A tri-layer system deeply combined

Policy shaped through procurement loops
Where industry and state form groups

Research funded through public-private flow
Blurring where accountability goes

Conflict zones reflect resource design
Geopolitical maps align with supply line

The system persists regardless of face
Replacing leaders but not the base

Because giants are not people alone
They are systems with logic of their own

HOOK (Final – Reinforced)

Giants of war, they don’t march, they invest
They don’t wear crowns, they finance the test
Conflicts are written in economic charts
Before the first soldier ever departs

Giants of war, built out of sight
Turning global systems into quiet might Not just destruction, but structured design
Where war becomes an industry line

OUTRO (Short Spoken Add-on)

The question is not who starts the war…
But what systems make war profitable in the first place.

Because when conflict becomes structured…
Peace becomes a design challenge.

♪ TRACK 6: Silicon & Surveillance (Expanded)

HOOK (Extended)

Silicon dreams but surveillance schemes
Code turn reality into regimes
Innovation split at the seams
Livingry lost in weaponized dreams

Silicon dreams, yeah promise so bright
Turn to control when aligned with might Tools for the people, or tools for the elite
Depends who defines how the system compete

VERSE 1 – DUAL-USE TECHNOLOGY (ORIGINS)

West coast labs where the future is shaped Innovation culture where boundaries break

Engineers build with intent to improve Efficiency, health, and the way that we move

AI models trained to assist human need
Medical scans, language, and speed

But funding streams redirect the course
When defense contracts reinforce

Dual-use doctrine quietly applied
Same innovation, different side

From civilian code to military grade
Transition happens without a parade

Research begins in open light
Then classified under strategic sight

VERSE 2 – AUTONOMOUS WARFARE (EXECUTION LAYER)

Drones autonomous, no pilot inside
Decision cycles compressed by code that decide

Target recognition through visual scan
Machine perception replacing man

Pattern detection becomes tactical edge
Milliseconds separating life from the ledge

No hesitation, no moral delay
Execution optimized in algorithmic way

Human judgment slowly removed From loops where accountability once proved

Now war becomes remote and abstract
Distance between action and impact

Operators monitor screens, not fields
While autonomous systems define yields

VERSE 3 – DATA PIPELINES (FUEL OF THE SYSTEM)

Data extracted from everyday life
Searches, locations, habits, and likes

Google structures the world through indexed streams
Turning behavior into predictive regimes

Meta maps social graphs in layered form
Tracking interaction as a behavioral norm

Consumer platforms gather the flow
Feeding datasets that steadily grow

Dual-use pipelines quietly expand
Civilian data becomes strategic command

What starts as convenience becomes intelligence
Aggregated insight gains relevance

No clear boundary, no defined wall
Between commercial use and protocol

VERSE 4 – SURVEILLANCE INFRASTRUCTURE (SYSTEM SCALE)

Surveillance scaled beyond the state
Corporate systems now aggregate

Not just governments watching the field
But private networks shaping the yield

Digital panopticon fully matured
Where observation itself is secured

Predictive policing, behavioral flags
Risk assessments based on data tags

Finance meets tech in systemic merge
Behavioral forecasting begins to surge

Capital flows toward data control
Where information defines the role

Tech ain’t the problem—it’s structural design
Who owns the system defines the line

Between liberation and subtle restraint
Between empowerment and quiet constraint

HOOK (Final – Reinforced)

Silicon dreams but surveillance schemes
Code turn reality into regimes
Innovation split at the seams
Livingry lost in weaponized dreams

Silicon dreams, now fully exposed
Not just invention—but how it's imposed
The future ain't neutral, it's carefully themed Between livingry… and weaponized dreams

OUTRO (Short Spoken Add-on)

The technology isn't the threat…

It's the alignment of power…
capital…
and code.

Because when intelligence is centralized…
Control becomes automated.

♪ TRACK 7: Invisible Bombs (Expanded)

HOOK (Extended)

Invisible bombs don't shake the ground
They collapse systems without a sound
No smoke, no fire—but nations fall
Financial warfare governs it all

Invisible bombs, no missile trail
No battlefield smoke, no visible scale
But currencies break and markets bend
And sovereign stability meets its end

VERSE 1 – CURRENCY & MARKET WARFARE

Currency collapse as a calibrated move
Exchange rates shift when strategic grooves

International Monetary Fund policy leverage reshapes demand Through conditional loans that bind a land

World Bank structures development flows
But debt architecture quietly grows

Markets destabilized through capital flight
Speculative pressure applied at night

Reserve currencies used as leverage points
While liquidity systems quietly disjoint

Sanctions deployed as economic strikes
No bullets fired, yet systems get mic'd

Entire economies lose their base
Without a single physical trace

VERSE 2 – DEBT SYSTEMS & STRUCTURAL CONTROL

Debt traps engineered through lending chains
Where repayment cycles generate pains

Loans extended under growth projections
But shift into long-term obligations

Structural adjustment, austerity frame
Cuts public systems under fiscal claim

Healthcare reduced, subsidies gone
While repayment schedules still move on

Control maintained without visible force
Just contractual obligation as course

Sovereignty narrowed through fiscal constraint
Independence weakened through economic restraint

Nations adjust to external design
While internal systems slowly decline

VERSE 3 – TRADE, SUPPLY CHAINS & ECONOMIC WEAPONIZATION

Trade routes weaponized through policy design
Logistics disrupted along the supply line

Ports, shipping lanes, and energy flows
Become pressure points where leverage grows

Food systems turned into strategic tools
Scarcity shaped through global rules

Energy markets fluctuate by design
Oil and gas become bargaining line

Supply chains fractured under stress
Manufacturing slowed in global regress

Modern warfare no longer confined
To kinetic force or battle-defined

It operates through systems unseen
Where economics becomes the machine

HOOK (Final – Reinforced)

Invisible bombs don’t shake the ground
They break economies without a sound
No smoke, no fire—but systems fall
Financial warfare controls it all

Invisible bombs, precise and cold
Not made of metal—but bought and sold

And nations rise or nations bend
To pressures they cannot defend

OUTRO (Short Spoken Add-on)

The battlefield is no longer physical…
It is structural.

And the weapons…
are systems that determine survival itself.

♪ TRACK 8: Nuclear Hands, Corporate Minds (Expanded)

HOOK (Extended)

Nuclear hands, corporate minds
Power concentrated, globally aligned
Not built in silence—but financed in time
Destruction engineered through corporate lines

Nuclear hands, no single face
But layered authority across global space
From contracts signed to futures defined
Whole civilizations re-aligned

VERSE 1 – ORIGINS OF THE NUCLEAR CHAIN

Research begins in classified domains
Where physics and state security converge in frames

Los Alamos National Laboratory designs the theoretical core
Where energy transforms into strategic war

But science alone does not complete the chain
Capital allocation determines domain

Funding streams from financial centers flow
Deciding which programs accelerate or slow

From laboratories to defense procurement plans
The system expands through institutional hands

What appears as pure scientific pursuit
Is guided by budgets that resolutely compute

So innovation and power become tied
In a structure where finance and science coincide

VERSE 2 – CORPORATE GOVERNANCE OF WAR SYSTEMS

Management firms oversee the entire chain
Not building weapons—but structuring gain

Lockheed Martin coordinates deployment design
While subcontract networks interline

Northrop Grumman integrates delivery systems
Embedded within industrial rhythms

Consulting bodies map efficiency flows
Optimizing production where defense grows

Ownership dispersed across equity layers
Institutional investors act as silent players

No single node holds full command
Yet coordination spreads across global hands

A distributed architecture of control
Where corporate logic defines the whole

VERSE 3 – DETERRANCE LOGIC & STRUCTURAL RISK

Deterrence theory frames the justification
Mutual destruction as stabilization

Fear becomes the balancing force
Preventing collapse by maintaining course

Weapons exist “just in case”
A paradox embedded in strategic space

Arms accumulation measured in degrees
Of risk tolerance and geopolitical unease

Security built on reciprocal threat
A system humanity cannot forget

Yet expansion continues through inertia and design
Each upgrade justified by the previous line

The logic sustains its own demand
Reinforcing structures across every land

VERSE 4 – HUMAN DECISION & GLOBAL VULNERABILITY

The button exists—but so does belief
That control ensures global relief

Systems depend on human restraint
Embedded within protocols that constrain

But one misread, one escalation line
Can shift global order in real time

Decisions compressed into seconds of choice
Where consequence outweighs human voice

Command structures built for rapid response
Yet fragility sits beneath every launch

The paradox remains unresolved
A world so advanced, yet unresolved

Because ultimate power, however refined
Still rests on a human mind

HOOK (Final – Reinforced)

Nuclear hands, corporate minds
Systems built where power aligns

Not in isolation—but through design
Where destruction follows financial lines

Nuclear hands, balance and dread
A world held together by threads of threat
And peace remains a conditional state
Balanced precariously against fate

OUTRO (Short Spoken Add-on)

The danger is not just the weapon…
It is the system that keeps it necessary.

And the system is not fixed…
It is maintained.

♪ TRACK 9: Survival of the Richest (Expanded)

HOOK (Extended)

Survival of the richest, not the fit
Power defined by who can commit
To extraction, control, and systemic grip
Where resources concentrate and others slip

Survival of the richest, rules re-script
Where inequality is structurally equipped Twisted Darwin, rewritten law
A system built on perpetual flaw

VERSE 1 – ORIGIN OF THE MISINTERPRETATION

Charles Darwin observed nature's evolving design
Adaptation across species over time

But theory extracted from biological ground
Was reinterpreted when power was found

Natural selection became ideological frame
Used to justify economic game

Not survival of cruelty or domination alone
But balance in ecosystems naturally grown

Yet in political and economic rewrite
It became justification for hierarchical might

Where "fitness" is measured in capital held
Not ecological balance or systems compelled

A scientific idea removed from its core
Repurposed to validate inequality's store

VERSE 2 – GLOBAL COMPETITION AS STRUCTURAL WAR

Competition reframed at planetary scale
Where nations operate like firms in detail

Trade blocs, sanctions, and currency wars
Replace cooperation with competitive scores

Markets behave like geopolitical fields
Where advantage determines what power yields

Resource access becomes strategic aim
Energy, minerals, food—all part of the game

Development paths unevenly shaped
Through debt, trade rules, and capital gates

Competition no longer simply survival
But structured imbalance as a global trial

VERSE 3 – STRENGTH AS DESTRUCTIVE CAPACITY

Strength redefined by destructive scale
Military budgets setting the tale

Power measured by capability to impose
Not by systems that collectively compose

Carl von Clausewitz once framed war as political extension
But modern systems amplify intervention

Force projection becomes primary metric
While diplomacy turns secondary aesthetic

Deterrence, dominance, strategic control
Replace cooperative global role

The stronger entity dictates the norm
While weaker systems absorb the storm

Destruction becomes proof of rank
Not collaboration or ecological bank

VERSE 4 – IDEOLOGY & STRUCTURAL INEQUALITY

Misused science evolves into belief
A framework masking systemic relief

Economic narratives reinforce divide
Where inequality is normalized worldwide

Policy structures reproduce the gap
Through taxation, ownership, and capital map

Institutions encode advantage in law
Reinforcing systems built on flaw

The ideology becomes self-sustained
Through education, media, and economic chain

What began as observation of life
Becomes justification for concentrated strife

And survival no longer means adaptation
But access to systems of accumulation

HOOK (Final – Reinforced)

Survival of the richest, rewritten script
Where systems are designed for those who grip
Not nature's balance, not shared uplift
But structured inequality tightly fixed

Survival of the richest, global rule
Where resources flow through asymmetric fuel
And the idea itself gets redefined
To normalize imbalance across mankind

OUTRO (Short Spoken Add-on)

The theory was never the problem…
The interpretation was.

And when ideas become tools of power…
They stop describing the world…
and start shaping it.

♪ TRACK 10: Killingry Economy –New York Economy(Expanded)

HOOK (Extended)

Killingry economy, profit from fear
Trillions circulating every year
Weapons expand while needs disappear
A structure engineered to keep war near

Killingry economy, logic reversed
Where destruction is funded and peace is dispersed
Fear becomes currency, endlessly steered
And survival itself is commercially tiered

VERSE 1 – BUDGET PRIORITIES & STRUCTURAL ALLOCATION

Defense budgets expand in response to threat
While public welfare systems remain in debt

North Atlantic Treaty Organization frameworks justify escalation
Driving coordinated defense allocation

Infrastructure, healthcare, education delayed
While security apparatus gets upgraded and paid

Opportunity cost becomes invisible loss
Measured in lives and long-term cross

Political cycles reinforce the trend
Where military spending continues to ascend

Security framed as highest priority claim
While social stability struggles the same

Resource allocation becomes asymmetrical
Between survival needs and defense capital

VERSE 2 – CONTRACTUAL WAR ECONOMY

Contracts signed before conflict unfolds
Where future wars are already sold

Lockheed Martin systems built into procurement streams
Where production continues regardless of regimes

Raytheon Technologies integrates weapons design
Into long-term governmental supply line

Conflict becomes embedded in planning cycles
Sustaining production through recurring titles

Profit decoupled from battlefield success
Revenue guaranteed through state processes

So war becomes a pre-funded design
Not reaction—but structured over time

Loss or victory doesn’t alter flow
Only ensures systems continue to grow

VERSE 3 – FEAR AS ECONOMIC ENGINE

Fear becomes macroeconomic fuel
Shaping fiscal priorities and global rules

Crisis narratives justify expansion
Of surveillance, arms, and strategic sanction

Public perception drives approval cycles
Where insecurity sustains institutional titles

Media amplification reinforces concern
While policy direction continues to churn

Risk assessment becomes political tool
Used to normalize extraordinary rule

Emergency logic becomes permanent state
Where exception slowly defines fate

Fear monetized across every layer
From defense firms to financial player

The system stabilizes through perceived threat
Ensuring demand is never reset

VERSE 4 – SYSTEMIC CRITIQUE & FULLER’S WARNING

Buckminster Fuller described systems of imbalance
Where humanity builds without full examination

He called attention to structural insanity
Where survival systems produce calamity

Overproduction of destruction capacity
While global needs face scarcity

A paradox embedded in design
Where survival tools become malign

Efficiency exists—but misaligned
With human welfare broadly defined

The system persists through momentum alone
Self-reinforcing, deeply grown

Not driven by intent of single hand
But by structures across every land

HOOK (Final – Reinforced)

Killingry economy, profit from fear
A trillion-dollar logic engineered clear
Weapons expand while futures disappear
And peace becomes financially unclear

Killingry economy, system intact
Where war is structured, forward-backed
And humanity pays the recurring cost
Of equilibrium continuously lost

OUTRO (Short Spoken Add-on)

The system does not depend on hatred…
It depends on incentives.

And when incentives reward destruction…
Destruction becomes routine.

♪ TRACK 11: Ancient Codes (Expanded)

HOOK (Extended)

Ancient codes in modern skin
Old control systems built within History loops, it bends and spins
Power structures don’t truly end

Ancient codes in digital form
Same old logic, restructured norm
From temple law to algorithm
Control survives through every system

VERSE 1 – BELIEF SYSTEMS: THEN AND NOW

Ancient civilizations shaped belief through rite
Where divine authority defined what is right

Ancient Egypt structured society through sacred rule
Where governance and theology formed a dual tool

Priests and pharaohs controlled perception
Through mythic order and divine connection

Modern systems shift the medium used
From sacred texts to data-infused

Now belief is shaped through media streams
Algorithms replacing priestly regimes

Narratives curated, attention directed Reality filtered and selectively projected

Control persists but changes its face
From ritual space to digital space

VERSE 2 – KNOWLEDGE AS POWER DISTRIBUTION

Knowledge once carved on stone and scroll
Was restricted to elites controlling the whole

Access determined who could interpret law
Who could understand, who only saw

Plato wrote of guarded philosophical truth
Where knowledge shapes governance from youth

Modern systems echo the same design
Through academic, economic, and digital line

Information asymmetry still persists
Where access defines who truly exists

Data hoarding replaces ancient archive
Controlling what systems allow to survive

Education expands—but hierarchy remains
Through credential systems and knowledge chains

Power still flows where understanding resides
Whether ancient temple or modern guide

VERSE 3 – STRUCTURAL HIERARCHY ACROSS ERAS

Hierarchy maintained through evolving design
From kingdoms of old to corporate line

Niccolò Machiavelli described power's pragmatic core
Where control mechanisms continually restore

Old world empires structured command
Through centralized rule across land

Modern systems decentralize the face
But retain control through institutional space

Boards, governments, and financial nodes
Replace monarchs on inherited roads

Power is diffused but still aligned
Through systems embedded and redefined

The structure adapts but never dissolves
It evolves into forms that better resolve

The same principle across centuries span
Control concentrated in fewer hands

VERSE 4 – THE RECURRING BLUEPRINT OF POWER

Across all history a pattern is seen
A recurring architecture underlying the scene

Centralized control of resources and thought
Regardless of era or battles fought

From empires built on conquest and land
To global systems managed by hand

The blueprint remains structurally intact
Even as civilizations contract or expand

Technology shifts but logic persists
Power concentrates where systems assist

What changes is interface and scale
Not the underlying structural tale

The loop continues through time's domain
Reproducing hierarchy again and again

HOOK (Final – Reinforced)

Ancient codes in modern skin
Same control systems built within History loops, it bends again
Power structures don't truly end

Ancient codes in silent form
Repackaged systems, redesigned norm
From temple rule to algorithm
Control persists through every system

OUTRO (Short Spoken Add-on)

The tools evolve…
but the patterns remain.

And until structure is questioned…
history will continue to repeat itself in new form.

♪ TRACK 12: Critical Path (Interlude – Spoken Expanded)

Buckminster Fuller said:

We have the tools…
systems of immense capability, precision, and reach…
capable of building abundance at planetary scale.

But we misapply them.
Not because the tools are flawed…
but because the frameworks guiding them are incomplete.

The question is not technology—it has never been technology.

Technology is neutral instrumentation:
an amplifier of whatever intention directs it.

The question is intention.
What are we optimizing for?
What outcomes are being prioritized—survival, equity, and continuity…
or control, extraction, and advantage?

Weaponry… or livingry?

One system organizes intelligence toward destruction efficiency—the optimization of harm, deterrence, and dominance.

The other organizes intelligence toward life efficiency—food, shelter, energy, health, education—systems designed to support human continuity at scale.

The distinction is not poetic.
It is structural.

And every civilization is defined by which direction it chooses to scale.

Track 13: From Weaponry to Livingry

HOOK (Chorus)

New York, city of the giants
Pullin' strings, movin' silent
From the skyline to the islands
They design it, then they hide it

Weaponry turned to compliance
Fear packaged up as science
But we rise in defiance
Turn the system into life, yeah

VERSE 1 – NEW YORK: CONTROL CENTER

Yeah…
City where the money never sleeps, but it dreams in control
Where the banks hold the leash on the fate of your soul
BlackRock moves shadows, unseen but bold
JPMorgan Chase got the world in a financial chokehold

Citigroup wires run deeper than streets in Manhattan
Morgan Stanley turn war into profits, it's more than just happenin'

This ain't a city, it's a system design
Where power ain't elected—it's structured in lines
Corporate pyramids, just like the Nile
Modern-day pharaohs in suits and a smile

HOOK

New York, city of the giants…
(Repeat)

VERSE 2 – CORPORATE WAR MACHINE

They don’t build bombs in Times Square lights
But they fund the fire that ignites them nights

Lockheed Martin jets fly high from invisible deals
Northrop Grumman write the code for autonomous kills

Boeing wings carry more than passengers now
General Dynamics build the submarines that silence the crowd

Boardrooms decide what battle begins
No blood on their hands—but they profit from sins
New York the brain, the war just the limb
Global control run on corporate whims

VERSE 3 – SILICON VALLEY CONNECTION

Out west, different face, same code
Google map the world, but who controls the road?
Meta builds your mind in a digital dome

AI trained not just to assist
But predict, control, and resist dissent

Drones in the sky, no pilot inside
Data is the weapon, nowhere to hide
Silicon Valley sellin’ you dreams
While feeding the backend war machines

Technology split between life and death
One path heals, the other suppress

HOOK

New York, city of the giants…
(Repeat)

VERSE 4 – ANCIENT EGYPTIAN CONTROL SYSTEM

This ain’t new, it’s ancient design
Back to the kingdoms along the Nile

Hierarchy built on divine control
Knowledge restricted to shape the whole
Priests held secrets, rulers held fear
Same system just re-engineered

Now it's coded in finance and law
Not pyramids—but the same old flaw
Control the people, control belief Manufacture order, manufacture grief

Pharaohs changed to CEOs
Same game, different clothes

VERSE 5 – BUCKMINSTER FULLER MESSAGE

Buckminster Fuller said we got the tools to save us all
But we build systems just to watch us fall

Weaponry ain't just guns and steel
It's the mindset that profits off how we feel Fear-based economics, killingry loops
Turn humans into disposable troops

Trillions spent just to prepare for war
While hunger still knockin' at the door

We could power the world, clean energy grids
But they fund destruction instead of the kids

HOOK (STRONGER)

New York, city of the giants
We see through the science
Weaponry turned to compliance
Now we break the alliance

VERSE 6 – AFRICA'S RESPONSE (THE SOLUTION)

Africa listen, the future is callin'
Don't copy the system that's built on your fallin'

We don’t need their killingry code
We build livingry, carve our own road

Solar in villages, water made clean
Tech for the people, not war machines

From Accra to Nairobi rise
New systems built before our eyes

Decentralize power, educate minds
Break free from the corporate binds

This the shift Fuller envisioned clear
A world where survival ain’t based on fear

OUTRO (SPOKEN WORD STYLE)

The giants only rule if you believe they do.
The system only works if you participate in it.

We are not powerless.
We are misdirected.

The future is not weaponry…
The future is livingry.

♪ TRACK 14: Geodesic Dreams (Expanded)

HOOK (Extended)

Geodesic dreams, build light not strong
Structures that last by doing less wrong
Do more with less—correct what went wrong
A balanced design where all belong

Geodesic dreams, systems refined
Efficiency woven into design
Future architectures redefined
Living systems aligned with mind

VERSE 1 – EFFICIENCY & STRUCTURAL MINIMALISM

Efficient structures, minimal waste
Every element placed with deliberate pace

Buckminster Fuller envisioned geometry as a solution
Where design itself reduces pollution

Strength through distribution, not excess load
Where form follows function along the road

Materials optimized for purpose and need
Not excess driven by industrial greed

Systems designed for longevity and flow
Where structural intelligence continues to grow

Less extraction, more precision employed
Reducing imbalance that systems have deployed

VERSE 2 – ENERGY SYSTEMS & GLOBAL TRANSITION

Renewable energy powering all
Reducing systems that historically fall

Solar capture across distributed grids
Where centralized dependency gradually splits

Wind and kinetic forces integrated Into infrastructures intelligently weighted

Hydrogen pathways and storage design
Supporting stability across the line

Energy autonomy reshapes control
Where access becomes universally whole

Transition reduces geopolitical strain
As resource competition begins to wane

VERSE 3 – BASIC NEEDS AS INFRASTRUCTURE DESIGN

Water, food, and shelter secured
Through systems engineered to endure

Precision agriculture, soil restored
Where degradation cycles are no more

Desalination and filtration scaled
So scarcity models are structurally failed

Shelter designed for climate resilience
Adapting to environmental variance

Technology redirected toward survival
Not consumption cycles of rival

Health systems integrated into design
Where access is universal over time

Human needs become foundational base
Not conditional outcomes of market space

VERSE 4 – FULLER'S VISION & SYSTEMIC REDESIGN

Fuller's vision remains precise and clear
A world structured around what is near

Buckminster Fuller described a planetary shift
Where design itself becomes the lift

Not competition but synergy aligned
Where global systems are consciously designed

From scarcity logic to abundance frame
Rewriting assumptions that shaped the game

Architecture becomes ethical code
Guiding how resources should be bestowed

A world redesigned through intelligent care
Where living systems replace despair

HOOK (Final – Reinforced)

Geodesic dreams, build light not strong
Structures that last by doing less wrong
Future designed where all belong
Livingry systems all along

♪ TRACK 15: Africa Must Rise (Finale – Expanded)

HOOK (Extended)

Africa rise, build your own way
No borrowed systems designed to decay
Don't borrow systems built in New York City
But focus on Livingry futures shaped today
Rewriting how the world will play
Africa rise, reclaim the line
Design your systems, redefine time
From dependency into design
A new trajectory for humankind

VERSE 1 – CONTINENTAL SELF-DETERMINATION

From Accra streets to continental plans
Power returning to African hands

Accra becomes symbolic ground
Where innovation and agency are found

From regional trade to unified aim
Coordinated systems beyond external claim

Infrastructure built from internal drive
Ensuring sovereignty helps economies thrive

No longer fragmented, externally steered
But continentally structured and future-geared

A collective intelligence rising in scope
Replacing extraction with coordinated hope

VERSE 2 – ECONOMIC AND STRUCTURAL INDEPENDENCE

No dependency on external control
Building internal systems that restore the whole

Financial autonomy becomes key
Breaking inherited dependency

Local industries redesigned for scale
Where value chains internally prevail

Resource processing within the land
So value is retained where people stand

Economic architecture redefined
To reflect sovereignty of mind

Not reactive systems shaped from abroad
But proactive design aligned and broad

VERSE 3 – TECHNOLOGY FOR LIFE UPLIFTMENT

Technology used to uplift life
Not replicate cycles of systemic strife

Digital systems applied to health and learning
Where equitable access is returning

Agritech, fintech, and civic design
Serving populations across every line

Innovation directed toward survival gain
Not external dependency chains

AI systems trained for local need
Where solutions are designed to seed

Tools become instruments of restoration
Not repetition of exploitation

VERSE 4 – NEW SYSTEMS FROM THE GROUND UP

New systems built from ground below
Where indigenous intelligence continues to grow

Rooted in context, culture, and place
Not imposed external design template base

Governance structures reimagined clean
Aligned with people, not abstract machine

Education systems rebuilt for truth
Preserving heritage while shaping youth

A different future the world will know
Emerging from Africa's sovereign flow

Where design is intentional, grounded, and free
A model for global possibility

FINAL HOOK (Reinforced)

Africa rise… the shift begins
Not in war—but how we build within
From systems imposed to systems we spin
A new architecture where futures win

♪ 16. BONUS TRACK (Spoken Word): Architects of Invisible War (Expanded)

They told you war begins with conflict…
With tension between nations…
With leaders making decisions in moments of crisis…

But that is only the surface.

War does not begin in chaos.
War begins in design.

And design… begins in systems.

In places like New York City—not just a city of lights and skylines…
but a coordination point of capital, contracts, and corporate intelligence.

Where the language is not explosions…
but procurement.
Not battle cries…
but boardroom approvals.

Because before any missile is launched…
it is modeled.
Funded.
Engineered.
Simulated.
Approved.

Lockheed Martin doesn't just manufacture weapons—it designs systems of precision dominance.

Hypersonic trajectories calculated beyond interception…
Kinetic energy systems moving at speeds where reaction becomes impossible…

Helicopter-launched anti-armor missiles…
not just tools of war…
but equations in motion.

This is physics… converted into control.

L3Harris Technologies builds perception itself.

Electro-optical systems…
surveillance platforms…
WESCAM sensor arrays that observe from above without interruption…

They don’t just see…
They interpret.
They classify.
They assign meaning.

They decide what is a threat…
before a human can question it.

SRC, Inc. operates in the invisible spectrum.

Radar systems mapping environments beyond human sight…
Electronic warfare technologies that interfere, distort, and disable…

Signals become terrain.
Frequencies become weapons.

The battlefield is no longer physical—it is informational.

And at the foundation…
GlobalFoundries produces the core intelligence.

Semiconductors…
microprocessors…
integrated circuits…

The architecture of cognition inside machines.

Without these…
there is no targeting system…
no autonomous drone…
no AI-assisted warfare.

This is where thinking itself becomes industrialized.

Then the system expands…

BAE Systems refining weapons carriage and release systems…
Ensuring that deployment is as precise as design…

Raytheon Technologies advancing missile systems, radar integration, and defense networks…

Layer by layer…
the system becomes complete.

Not a single weapon—but an ecosystem of capability.

And none of this operates independently.

Each corporation is a node…
in a larger architecture.

Connected through contracts.
Aligned through capital.
Sustained through policy.

Surveillance systems feed targeting systems…
Targeting systems feed deployment systems…
Deployment systems feed data back into surveillance systems…

A closed loop.

Self-reinforcing.
Self-improving.
Self-justifying.

This is not chaos.
This is optimization.

And behind it all…
is a logic.

A logic that says:
Security requires dominance.
Dominance requires innovation.
Innovation requires funding.
Funding requires threat.

And so the system sustains itself…
by maintaining the conditions that justify its existence.

The weapons are not the origin.

They are the outcome of an entire structure designed long before conflict appears.

So when you see war…
you are not witnessing the beginning.

You are witnessing the final stage of a process that started in silence.

In research labs…
In financial models…
In corporate strategies…

In cities that appear peaceful…
but design global consequences.

Because in this era…

Control is not about occupying land…

It is about controlling systems.

And the most powerful systems…

Are the ones you cannot see.

📚 Bibliography

Buckminster Fuller — Grunch of Giants

Buckminster Fuller's Grunch of Giants introduces the concept of GRUNCH (Gross Universal Cash Heist), describing global corporate systems as invisible, self-reinforcing structures that concentrate power beyond democratic control. The work expands his systems-thinking philosophy, arguing for a redesign of civilization toward life-supporting ("livingry") systems rather than destructive economic and military structures.

- PDF / Archive Access: https://archive.org/search?query=grunch+of+giants+buckminster+fuller

---

Lupe Fiasco — The Show Goes On (2010)

A hip-hop track by Lupe Fiasco that emphasizes resilience, perseverance, and personal agency within systemic constraints. Built on a sample of Modest Mouse's "Float On," the song delivers a message of endurance and forward movement despite structural adversity.

- YouTube Video: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Rmp6zIr5y4U

Solomon Yaw Adeklo — From Weaponry to Livingry: Buckminster Fuller's Call to Use Technology for Life and Not For War (My facebook post)

Facebook link:
https://web.facebook.com/solomon.yaw/posts/pfbid0rVnP1W4JG4JKKr6ytSZVWTmDRLQm1FwUWKDNmwtW9QjS1NDvu2rYuh9PFjdqLdufl