Solomon Ghandi is an AI music artist created by a Ghanaian software developer with a vision to merge Artificial Intelligence, Music, and Systems Thinking.

Inspired by conscious hip-hop legends like Lupe Fiasco and the visionary concepts of R. Buckminster Fuller, Ghandi's music transcends entertainment, serving as a metaphysical tool for global transformation.

The name "Ghandi" originated as a nickname during his time at Tema Secondary School in Ghana, symbolizing a commitment to intellectual and conscious leadership through art.

Solomon Yaw Adeklo is a software developer dedicated to shaping the future of conscious hip-hop music through AI.

🎤 FULL LYRICS (Core Track)

♪ TRACK 1: Intro – Skyline of Control (Spoken Word)

Look at the skyline…

Steel and glass rising into the clouds—
But don't be distracted by the height.

Because this is not architecture…
This is infrastructure.

Not just buildings—systems.
Not just lights—signals.
Not just streets—networks of control.

Every window glowing is a node in a larger grid.
Every office a chamber where decisions are made
That echo far beyond these borders.

From Wall Street flows capital—
And where capital flows, power follows.

Policies are not always written in parliaments…
They are coded in contracts,
Negotiated in boardrooms,
Executed through markets.

This city does not sleep—
Because the system it sustains must remain awake
Across every timezone, every economy, every nation.

What you see is culture…
What operates beneath is control.

A command center without a crown,
An empire without a name,
A system so vast it feels invisible—
Yet so precise it shapes everyday life.

This is not just a city.

This is coordination.
This is concentration.
This is global orchestration.

Welcome…
To the City of Giants.

♪ TRACK 2: Concrete Throne (Expanded)

HOOK (Extended)

Concrete throne, crown made of code
Algorithmic kings on a data-driven road
Dreams get sold but the ownership's controlled
Bright lights glitter while the truth stay cold

Concrete throne, yeah the system don't sleep
Power runs deeper than the money you keep
You play your role while they write the scroll
You don't run the city—the system own

VERSE 1 – SPECTACLE VS STRUCTURE

From Times Square screens to executive floors
Same architecture behind both doors

Neon illusions, consumer display
Masking the mechanisms shaping the day

Billboards flash what to desire
While boardrooms quietly move the wire

Culture curated, perception designed Narratives crafted to stabilize mind

Entertainment ain't random—it's aligned
With economic flows that redefine

What you admire, what you pursue
Engineered pathways constructed for you

VERSE 2 – ECONOMIC HIERARCHY

Labor below where the pressure reside
Capital above where decisions collide

You trade your time just to stay alive
They leverage systems to multiply

Macroeconomic levers get pulled Inflation rises, purchasing dulled

Central banks tweak the cost of debt
Decide who prosper, who stay in deficit

Interest rates ain’t neutral tools
They redistribute power by hidden rules

Boom and bust cycles strategically placed
Wealth gets transferred, not erased

VERSE 3 – ILLUSION OF CHOICE

Freedom marketed through endless choice
But options curated to shape your voice

You pick a path—but within a frame
Pre-structured outcomes inside the game

Consumer freedom, economic cage
You free to spend—but not to change

The system flexible—but never breaks
Adapts to pressure, adjusts the stakes

You think it’s chaos—but it’s controlled
A managed disorder carefully rolled

Invisible lines define your climb
Boundaries coded in space and time

VERSE 4 – STRUCTURAL POWER

Concrete jungle, but roots run deep
Into financial systems you never see

Ownership layered through complex chains
Holding companies masking gains

Equity stakes in everything you use
From the food you eat to the news you choose

Power diffused but still aligned
Centralized logic, decentralized design

No dictator voice, no visible throne
Yet control persists through systems alone

This ain’t oppression loud and declared
It’s quiet dominance—engineered, prepared

VERSE 5 – GLOBAL EXTENSION

This city ain’t local—it scales worldwide
Its financial logic globalized

Currencies linked to decisions here
Shockwaves travel far and near

Emerging markets feel the shift
When capital flows begin to drift

Trade agreements, policy tone
Often shaped from this concrete throne

What happens here don’t stay contained
It ripple outward, system sustained

HOOK (Final – Reinforced)

Concrete throne, crown made of code
Global systems run from this mode
Dreams look free but the roots controlled
You don't run the city—the system own

Concrete throne, built unseen
Not just a place—but a global machine
Play your part, fulfill your role
While the system defines the whole

OUTRO (Short Spoken Add-on)

It's not about who's in charge…
It's about how the system is built.

And once you understand the structure…
You start to see the limits of the throne.

Pharaohs in suits, modern disguise
Ancient control through corporate ties
Gold turned digital, power refined
Financial pyramids rule mankind

Pharaohs in suits, no throne in sight
Yet they govern flows of global might Invisible crowns, data-defined
They don't rule land—they rule the mind

VERSE 1 – FROM EGYPT TO EQUITY SYSTEMS

From pyramids carved out of stone and sand
To balance sheets that quietly command

Labor once stacked those monuments high
Now capital layers reach into the sky

Same architecture, different form
Control systems redesigned to perform

Not built by slaves with visible strain
But structured through markets that hide the chain

BlackRock stakes stretch wide and deep
Across industries people depend on to eat

Equity webs so vast, so spread
Ownership blurred, authority unread

You don’t see rulers, you see brands
But influence sits in institutional hands

VERSE 2 – LIQUIDITY AS POWER (THE NEW NILE)

JPMorgan Chase flows like Nile through global veins
Capital currents sustaining domains

Liquidity channels determine the pace
Of development, decline, or economic grace

Where the river flows, civilizations grow
Where it dries up, instability show

Loans extended become control lines
Debt agreements rewrite design

Interest accrues like invisible weight
Compounding pressure that shapes your fate

No whip required, no visible force
Just structured dependency through financial course

VERSE 3 – ENGINEERING THE SYSTEM (RISK & CONTROL)

Citigroup convert uncertainty into gain
Risk repackaged, distributed, contained

Derivatives built from layers of trust
Abstract instruments people must trust

Morgan Stanley optimize flows through modeled time
Forecasting futures, refining the climb

Quantitative systems simulate fate
Algorithms pricing what you create

Hierarchy coded in fiscal law
Embedded deeply without a flaw

Not chains of iron, but rules of trade
A system where compliance is self-made

VERSE 4 – PSYCHOLOGICAL & CULTURAL CONTROL

Ancient Egypt controlled belief through myth
Divine authority, unquestioned script

Now control flows through data streams
Narratives shaped through digital means

Perception guided, consensus formed
Through media cycles carefully normed

Truth fragmented, attention steered
What you focus on is engineered

Education framed, history told
In ways that reinforce the hold

No need for force when minds align
With structures designed to confine

VERSE 5 – CENTRALIZATION WITHOUT A FACE

Pharaohs changed—but the system persist
From monarch rule to corporate lists

No single ruler to overthrow
But a network structure that runs the show

Centralized logic, decentralized face
Responsibility scattered across the space

When harm is done, no one to blame
Just “market forces” named the same

Diffuse the power, obscure the hand
Make the system hard to understand

So it sustains without revolt
A self-reinforcing default

VERSE 6 – GLOBAL PYRAMID EXTENSION

This pyramid ain’t local—it scale worldwide
Emerging markets sit at the side

Capital flows decide their rise
Investment patterns determine their size

Developed cores accumulate gain
Peripheral zones absorb the strain

Resources extracted, value retained
Inequality structurally maintained

Trade routes, loans, and policy tone
Often shaped from this financial throne

♪ TRACK 12: Critical Path (Interlude – Spoken Expanded)

Buckminster Fuller said:

We have the tools…
systems of immense capability, precision, and reach…
capable of building abundance at planetary scale.

But we misapply them.
Not because the tools are flawed…
but because the frameworks guiding them are incomplete.

The question is not technology—it has never been technology.

Technology is neutral instrumentation:
an amplifier of whatever intention directs it.

The question is intention.
What are we optimizing for?
What outcomes are being prioritized—survival, equity, and continuity…
or control, extraction, and advantage?

Weaponry… or livingry?

One system organizes intelligence toward destruction efficiency—the optimization of harm, deterrence, and dominance.

The other organizes intelligence toward life efficiency—food, shelter, energy, health, education—systems designed to support human continuity at scale.

The distinction is not poetic.
It is structural.

And every civilization is defined by which direction it chooses to scale.

Track 13: From Weaponry to Livingry

HOOK (Chorus)

New York, city of the giants
Pullin' strings, movin' silent
From the skyline to the islands
They design it, then they hide it

Weaponry turned to compliance
Fear packaged up as science
But we rise in defiance
Turn the system into life, yeah

VERSE 1 – NEW YORK: CONTROL CENTER

Yeah…
City where the money never sleeps, but it dreams in control
Where the banks hold the leash on the fate of your soul
BlackRock moves shadows, unseen but bold
JPMorgan Chase got the world in a financial chokehold

Citigroup wires run deeper than streets in Manhattan
Morgan Stanley turn war into profits, it's more than just happenin'

This ain't a city, it's a system design
Where power ain't elected—it's structured in lines
Corporate pyramids, just like the Nile
Modern-day pharaohs in suits and a smile

HOOK

New York, city of the giants…
(Repeat)

VERSE 2 – CORPORATE WAR MACHINE

They don’t build bombs in Times Square lights
But they fund the fire that ignites them nights

Lockheed Martin jets fly high from invisible deals
Northrop Grumman write the code for autonomous kills

Boeing wings carry more than passengers now
General Dynamics build the submarines that silence the crowd

Boardrooms decide what battle begins
No blood on their hands—but they profit from sins
New York the brain, the war just the limb
Global control run on corporate whims

VERSE 3 – SILICON VALLEY CONNECTION

Out west, different face, same code
Google map the world, but who controls the road?
Meta builds your mind in a digital dome

AI trained not just to assist
But predict, control, and resist dissent

Drones in the sky, no pilot inside
Data is the weapon, nowhere to hide
Silicon Valley sellin’ you dreams
While feeding the backend war machines

Technology split between life and death
One path heals, the other suppress

New York, city of the giants…
(Repeat)

VERSE 4 – ANCIENT EGYPTIAN CONTROL SYSTEM

This ain’t new, it’s ancient design
Back to the kingdoms along the Nile

Hierarchy built on divine control
Knowledge restricted to shape the whole
Priests held secrets, rulers held fear
Same system just re-engineered

Now it's coded in finance and law
Not pyramids—but the same old flaw
Control the people, control belief
Manufacture order, manufacture grief

Pharaohs changed to CEOs
Same game, different clothes

VERSE 5 – BUCKMINSTER FULLER MESSAGE

Buckminster Fuller said we got the tools to save us all
But we build systems just to watch us fall

Weaponry ain't just guns and steel
It's the mindset that profits off how we feel Fear-based economics, killingry loops
Turn humans into disposable troops

Trillions spent just to prepare for war
While hunger still knockin' at the door

We could power the world, clean energy grids
But they fund destruction instead of the kids

HOOK (STRONGER)

New York, city of the giants
We see through the science
Weaponry turned to compliance
Now we break the alliance

VERSE 6 – AFRICA'S RESPONSE (THE SOLUTION)

Africa listen, the future is callin'
Don't copy the system that's built on your fallin'

We don’t need their killingry code
We build livingry, carve our own road

Solar in villages, water made clean
Tech for the people, not war machines

From Accra to Nairobi rise
New systems built before our eyes

Decentralize power, educate minds
Break free from the corporate binds

This the shift Fuller envisioned clear
A world where survival ain’t based on fear

OUTRO (SPOKEN WORD STYLE)

The giants only rule if you believe they do.
The system only works if you participate in it.

We are not powerless.
We are misdirected.

The future is not weaponry…
The future is livingry.

♪ TRACK 14: Geodesic Dreams (Expanded)

HOOK (Extended)

Geodesic dreams, build light not strong
Structures that last by doing less wrong
Do more with less—correct what went wrong
A balanced design where all belong

Geodesic dreams, systems refined
Efficiency woven into design
Future architectures redefined
Living systems aligned with mind

VERSE 1 – EFFICIENCY & STRUCTURAL MINIMALISM

Efficient structures, minimal waste
Every element placed with deliberate pace

Buckminster Fuller envisioned geometry as a solution
Where design itself reduces pollution

Strength through distribution, not excess load
Where form follows function along the road

Materials optimized for purpose and need
Not excess driven by industrial greed

Systems designed for longevity and flow
Where structural intelligence continues to grow

Less extraction, more precision employed
Reducing imbalance that systems have deployed

VERSE 2 – ENERGY SYSTEMS & GLOBAL TRANSITION

Renewable energy powering all
Reducing systems that historically fall

Solar capture across distributed grids
Where centralized dependency gradually splits

Wind and kinetic forces integrated Into infrastructures intelligently weighted

Hydrogen pathways and storage design
Supporting stability across the line

Energy autonomy reshapes control
Where access becomes universally whole

Transition reduces geopolitical strain
As resource competition begins to wane

VERSE 3 – BASIC NEEDS AS INFRASTRUCTURE DESIGN

Water, food, and shelter secured
Through systems engineered to endure

Precision agriculture, soil restored
Where degradation cycles are no more

Desalination and filtration scaled
So scarcity models are structurally failed

Shelter designed for climate resilience
Adapting to environmental variance

Technology redirected toward survival
Not consumption cycles of rival

Health systems integrated into design
Where access is universal over time

Human needs become foundational base
Not conditional outcomes of market space

VERSE 4 – FULLER'S VISION & SYSTEMIC REDESIGN

Fuller's vision remains precise and clear
A world structured around what is near

Buckminster Fuller described a planetary shift
Where design itself becomes the lift

Not competition but synergy aligned
Where global systems are consciously designed

From scarcity logic to abundance frame
Rewriting assumptions that shaped the game

Architecture becomes ethical code
Guiding how resources should be bestowed

A world redesigned through intelligent care
Where living systems replace despair

Geodesic dreams, build light not strong
Structures that last by doing less wrong
Future designed where all belong
Livingry systems all along

♪ TRACK 15: Africa Must Rise (Finale – Expanded)

HOOK (Extended)

Africa rise, build your own way
No borrowed systems designed to decay
Don't borrow systems built in New York City
But focus on Livingry futures shaped today
Rewriting how the world will play
Africa rise, reclaim the line
Design your systems, redefine time
From dependency into design
A new trajectory for humankind

VERSE 1 – CONTINENTAL SELF-DETERMINATION

From Accra streets to continental plans
Power returning to African hands

Accra becomes symbolic ground
Where innovation and agency are found

From regional trade to unified aim
Coordinated systems beyond external claim

Infrastructure built from internal drive
Ensuring sovereignty helps economies thrive

No longer fragmented, externally steered
But continentally structured and future-geared

A collective intelligence rising in scope
Replacing extraction with coordinated hope

VERSE 2 – ECONOMIC AND STRUCTURAL INDEPENDENCE

No dependency on external control
Building internal systems that restore the whole

Financial autonomy becomes key
Breaking inherited dependency

Local industries redesigned for scale
Where value chains internally prevail

Resource processing within the land
So value is retained where people stand

Economic architecture redefined
To reflect sovereignty of mind

Not reactive systems shaped from abroad
But proactive design aligned and broad

VERSE 3 – TECHNOLOGY FOR LIFE UPLIFTMENT

Technology used to uplift life
Not replicate cycles of systemic strife

Digital systems applied to health and learning
Where equitable access is returning

Agritech, fintech, and civic design
Serving populations across every line

Innovation directed toward survival gain
Not external dependency chains

AI systems trained for local need
Where solutions are designed to seed

Tools become instruments of restoration
Not repetition of exploitation

VERSE 4 – NEW SYSTEMS FROM THE GROUND UP

New systems built from ground below
Where indigenous intelligence continues to grow

Rooted in context, culture, and place
Not imposed external design template base

Governance structures reimagined clean
Aligned with people, not abstract machine

Education systems rebuilt for truth
Preserving heritage while shaping youth

A different future the world will know
Emerging from Africa's sovereign flow

Where design is intentional, grounded, and free
A model for global possibility

FINAL HOOK (Reinforced)

Africa rise… the shift begins
Not in war—but how we build within
From systems imposed to systems we spin
A new architecture where futures win

📚 Bibliography

Buckminster Fuller — Grunch of Giants

Buckminster Fuller's Grunch of Giants introduces the concept of GRUNCH (Gross Universal Cash Heist), describing global corporate systems as invisible, self-reinforcing structures that concentrate power beyond democratic control. The work expands his systems-thinking philosophy, arguing for a redesign of civilization toward life-supporting ("livingry") systems rather than destructive economic and military structures.

Lupe Fiasco — The Show Goes On (2010)

A hip-hop track by Lupe Fiasco that emphasizes resilience, perseverance, and personal agency within systemic constraints. Built on a sample of Modest Mouse's "Float On," the song delivers a message of endurance and forward movement despite structural adversity.
